*Note on service animals

In the regions where Rocky Mountaineer operates, a recognized Service Dog is one that has been trained to perform (a) specific task(s) to assist a person with a disability. This definition does not cover or include "comfort," "stress" or "anxiety" animals whose sole purpose is to be present with their owner. On our Canadian routes, a recognized Service Dog is an animal that is certified by a government-licensed Service Dog trainer or trainer that meets the qualifications and standards of Assistance Dogs International or Guide Dog Federation.

**Note on transfers

There are limited accessible services, including handy-van taxis, available in each of our destinations. While we make every effort to have transfers available at our stations, there may be some delay before they become available. All accessible services are booked on a on request basis. If you are unable to board a motorcoach transfer with limited assistance and require a handy-van taxi, please advise us at least 60 days prior to travel or at the time of booking to confirm availability. Please contact your Vacation Consultant for more information.

DISCLAIMER

You are solely responsible for reporting any mobility issues that may require special attention while on a vacation with Rocky Mountaineer at the time your reservation is made. We will make reasonable attempts to accommodate your special requirements, but we are not responsible in the event we are unable to do so, nor responsible for any denial of services by hotels, restaurants, motorcoaches, taxis, or other independent suppliers. We cannot provide individual assistance to a guest for walking, dining, getting on and of motorcoaches, and other vehicles, or other personal needs. We strongly recommend a qualified and physically able companion to accompany those who need such assistance.

Not all locations including sightseeing stops accommodate wheelchairs and some locations and sightseeing activities require extensive standing, sitting or walking, sometimes on unpaved or uneven surfaces. We are not responsible for any missed activities due to your inability to participate. Most transportation services, including the touring motorcoaches and taxis, are not equipped with wheelchair ramps.
